

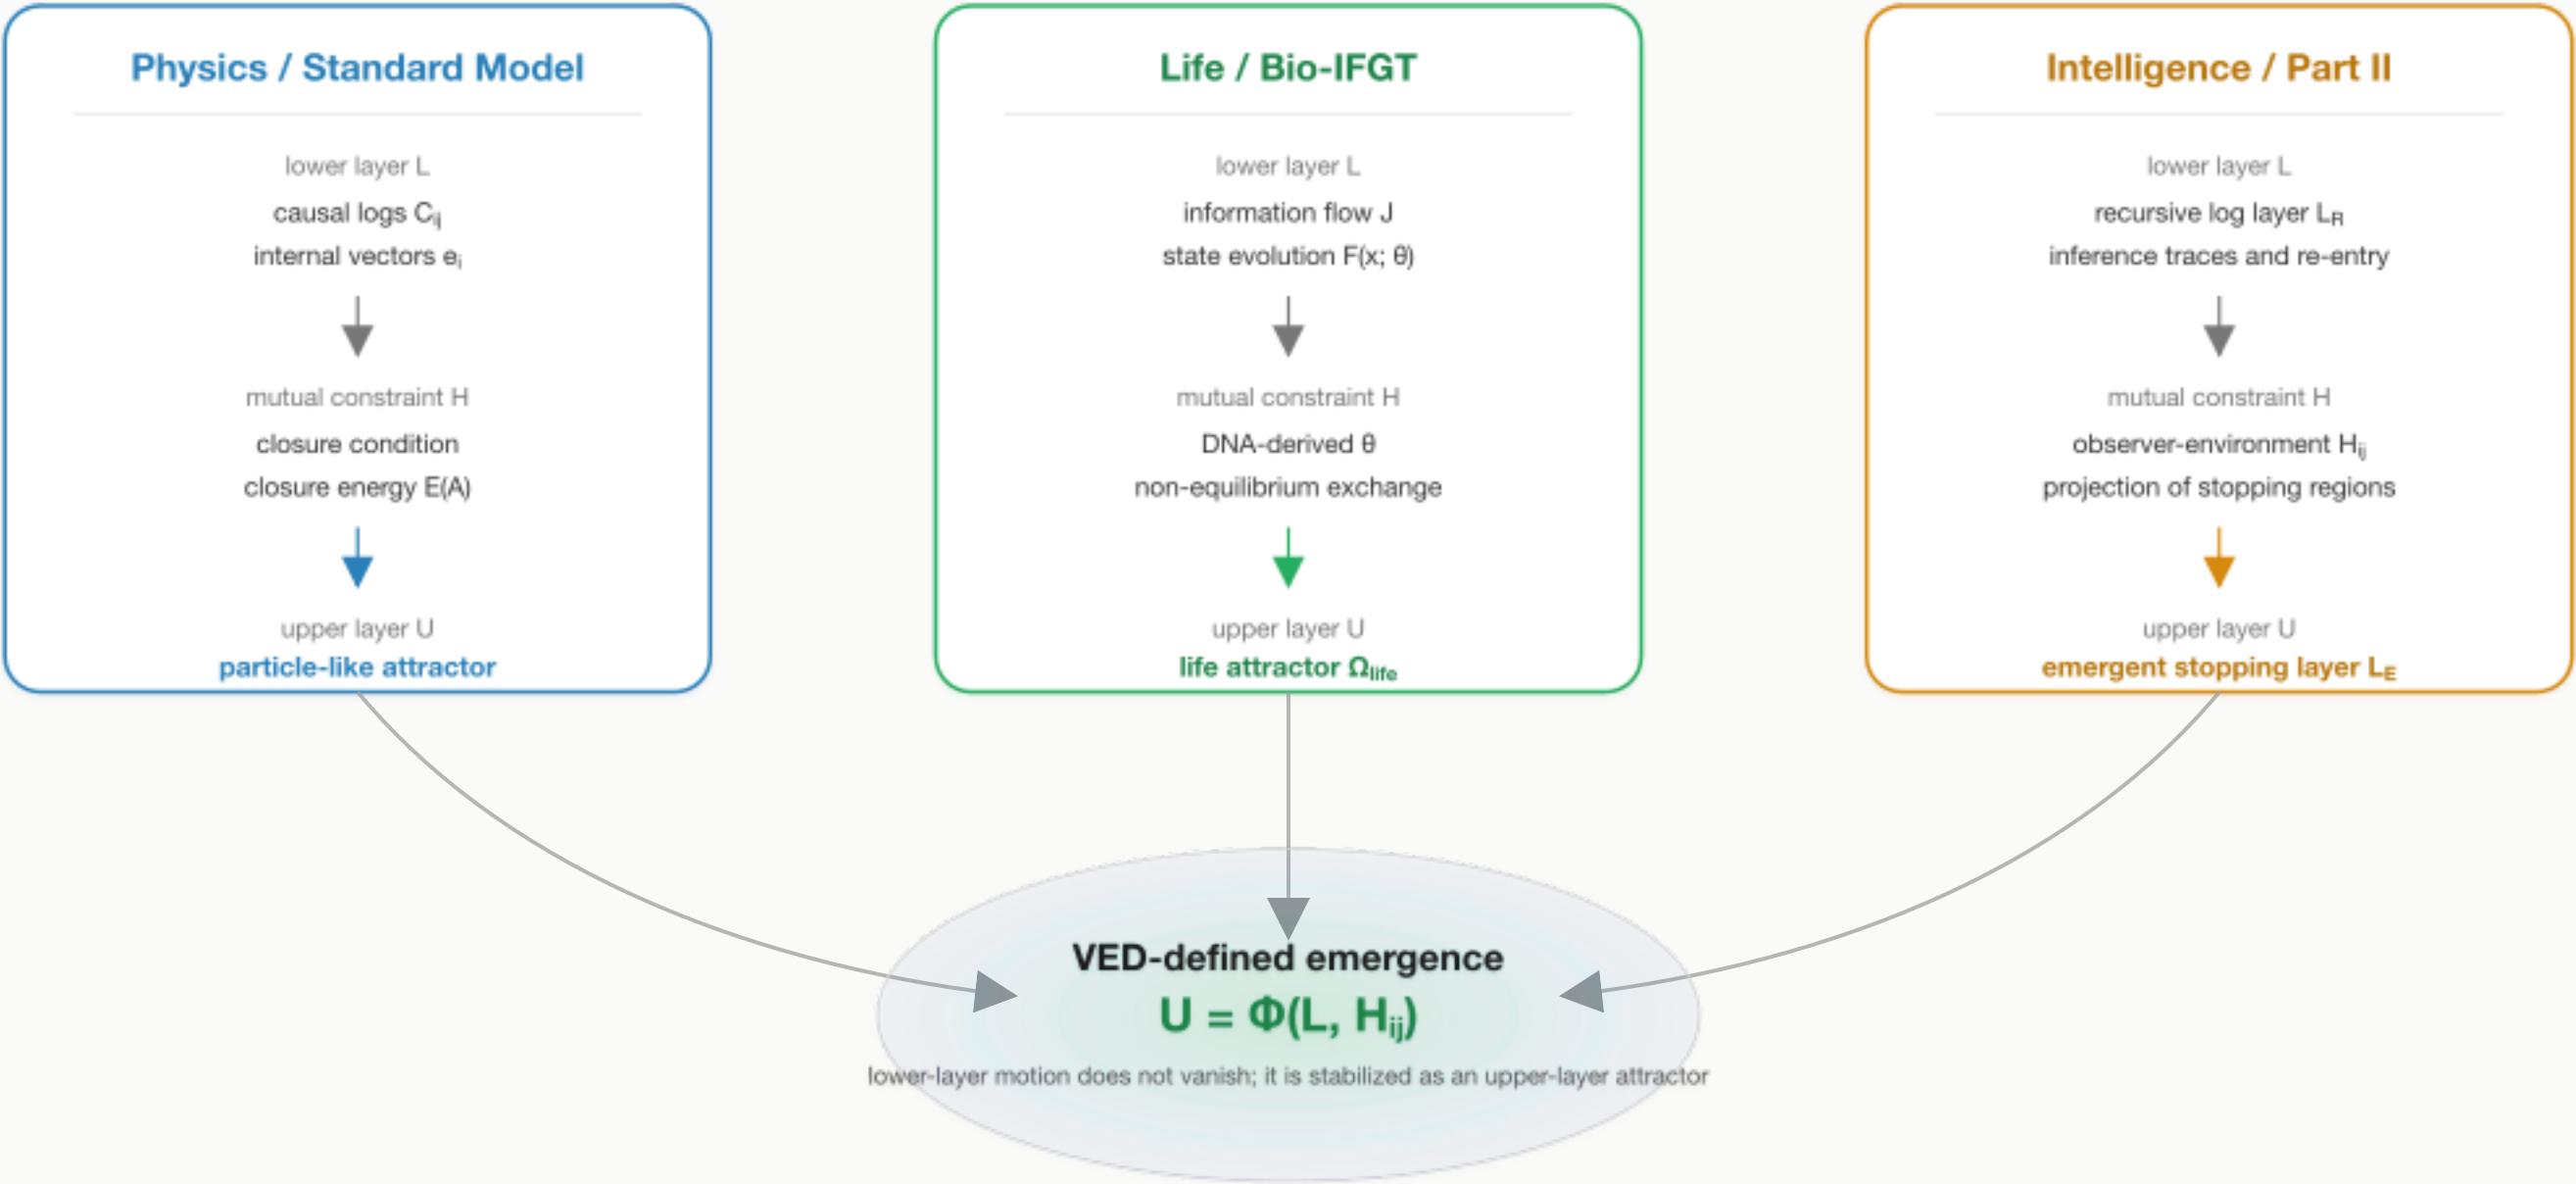

Fig.5 Three Examples of VED-Defined Emergence

Emergence is not mere complexity; it is the formation of an attractor from non-closure under external mutual constraint

VED usage: lower-layer motion + mutual constraint → emergent upper-layer attractor
 $U = \Phi(L, H_{ij})$

Not “complexity simply becomes something new,” but “non-closure plus constraint forms a sustainable attractor.”