

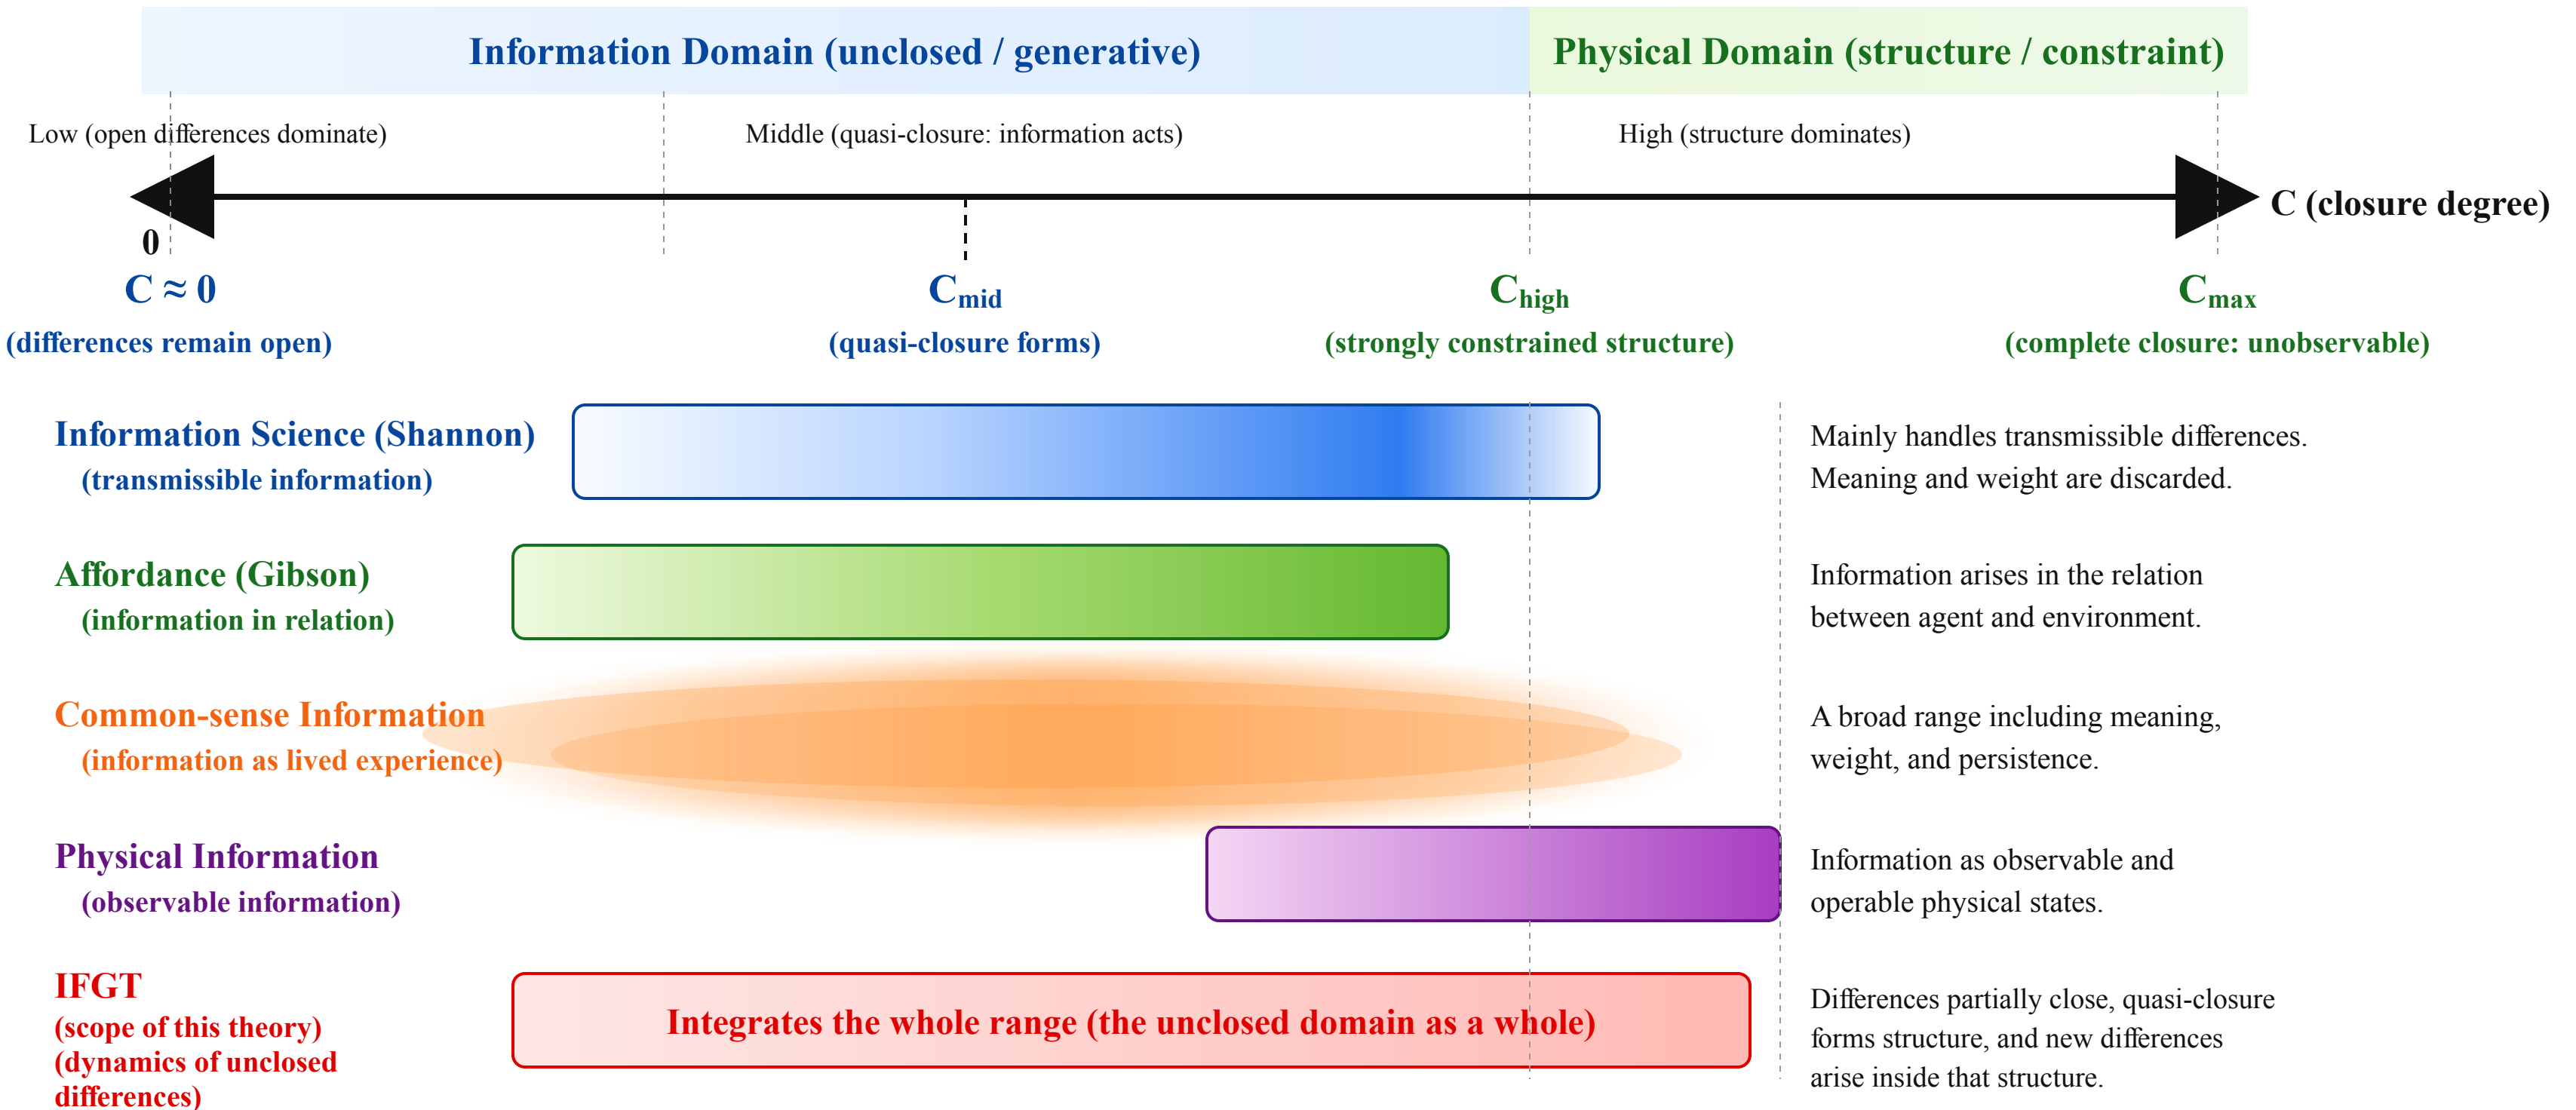

Fig.5 Coverage of Information Concepts Across Fields

— Which range of “information” does each field refine? —

The horizontal axis represents closure degree C . The left side is the domain of open differences; the right side is the domain of physically constrained structure.

Each field refines a different range of this continuum. Each is valid, but each observes a different region.

IFGT attempts to describe the whole continuum as the dynamics of unclosed differences.